THUNDERCLOUD RECRUIT

NAME	ST	HIGH SCHOOL	Notes	Position	Grad Year	HT	WT
Timmy Donnahue	IL	Plainfield North	Donnahue was one of the top 2 defensive linemen at camp. He has good length at the DE position and could stand up and rush the passer from a 2 point stance. He used his hands well getting to the chest of the OL. Donnahue has a quick first step and is able to use his speed to get the edge or a counter move back to the inside. He took to coaching very well and was one of the leaders of the group.	DL	2017	6-2	200
Tioano Morel	IA	Luisa-Muscatine	Morel is a DL prospect who could play LB or DL. He did a very good job on the inside 3 tech and outside 5 tech. Showed a good quickness on the edge rushing the passer, but also used a nice counter move to keep the OL off balance. Was one of the most advanced pass rushers at the camp using a rip and swim move. Morel showed good strength against the run and was able to stop much bigger OL at the line of scrimmage.	DL	2017	6-0	205
Andrew Todd	IA	Washington	Todd was the overall camp MVP and best OL at the camp. He holds an early Iowa State offer and showed a very advanced skill set. Todd played with a great base and was able to bend and get under smaller DL. Coach McNally spoke very highly of him. He moved well with a good base in pass protection and played with great balance and patience.	OL	2018	6-4	260
Nolan Potter	IA	Washington	2017 U.S. Army Combine invite Potter is a huge OL prospect with a great frame. He needs to get stronger and add bulk but he has the length and height you look for in an OT. Potter played with good feet and high effort while run blocking. He runs his feet to the whistle and plays with an edge. Potter needs to improve anchoring down as a run blocker. He moves well in pass protection and is able to use his long arms to keep defenders off of his chest.	OL	2018	6-6	240

Chase Arends	IA	Dike-New Arends	Arends worked out as an OL at the FBU camp, but could also play interior DL at the next level. He played with a real nasty streak the entire camp and was a block finisher. He came off the ball with a flat back and was able to get movement during the run blocking drill. Arends showed good strength and was able to get movement on DL on 1v1 blocks. As a pass blocker, he needs to continue to work on his balance, but was able to play with a solid base.	OL	2018	6-2	250
Aaron Byrd	IL	Bradley-Bourbannais	Byrd is an OL prospect who can play OG, OC and can even long snap. He was very good in pass protection showing a good base while mirroring DL. He played with good balance and was able to continue to pass block while keeping that good technique. Byrd plays with an edge as a run blocker and did a good job blocking the whistle. He was very coachable and you could tell he was an FBU alum because of his experience in the drills. Byrd needs to continue to get stronger and work on coming off the ball with a quicker first step.	OL	2018	6-3	240
Pierre Anderson	IL	South Shore	LB prospect Anderson is an FBU alumni and a leader of the LB group and took to coaching really well. He does a good job sideline to sideline and played with good effort. Anderson played well in the 1v1 sessions and also the team portion of the camp. He showed a good understanding of the defensive scheme and worked well with the other LBs.	LB	2017	5-10	190
Zackary Lee	MI	West Catholic	Lee is a LB prospect who is also a FBU camp alum. He attended the '16 Army Combine. ILB prospect who is physical while jamming WRs and RBs close to the line of scrimmage. Lee got better running with them in space, but will need to continue to work on his speed. He was a leader on the defensive side of the ball and did a good job communicating pre snap to the other members of the defense.	LB	2018	6-0	195
Tyler Nutall	IL	Homewood-Flossmoor	Another FBU alumni, Nutall, was the best RB at the camp. He has a low to the ground build but is very muscular. He caught the ball well out of the backfield and was able to make defenders miss in space. Nutall did a nice job on the angle and whip routes and was able to drop his hips and change direction. As a ball carrier, he showed good strength going through drills and was a leader all weekend.	RB	2017	5-7	150
Christian Pinkney	MI	Kearsly	Pinkney is an athletic RB prospect who had a long lean build that could translate to WR or even DB. He was a long strider that showed good speed on the deep seam and wheel routes. His coach spoke very highly of his versatility and scheme flexibility. He showed good change of direction in the open field as a ball carrier with an ability to put his foot in the ground and quickly make a move on a defender.	RB	2017	5-11	165
Mark Ward	IL	St. Patrick	Young RB prospect Ward showed very well at the FBU Chicago camp as a freshman. Ward has a nice frame at 6-0 172, with a long lean build. He showed an ability to track the ball well in the air as a pass catcher. He did well in the 1v1 portion of the camp with his change of direction.	RB	2019	6-0	172

Kyle Roth	IL	Lake Zurich	Roth, RB who missed day 1 at FBU Chicago, was a nice surprise on Day 2 and 3. He ran a 10.8 100m at a recent track meet. His coach spoke very highly of him and said that he really stood out when the campers went to the 1v1 and 7v7 segments of the camp. Roth showed good long speed while running routes and had a nice build and strength for a RB.	RB	2017	5-11	180
Bryce Hall	WI	Badger	Hall is a young RB prospect who is only in middle school, but was one of the best youth RB at the FBU Chicago camp. He showed very good hands and ability to catch difficult passes on very windy days in Chicago. Hall is very quick in the open field and was able to make defenders miss while running his routes and with the ball in his hands. Hall is a very hard worker who has a very bright future down the road.	RB	2020	5-4	140
Jovan Marsh	IL	Robbins	Marsh is a young RB prospect who is only in the 7th grade. He worked out as a RB but could also grow into a WR down the line. He has very big hands and is able to pull the ball out of the air. His coaches spoke very highly of him and his future on the offensive side of the ball.	RB	2021	5-10	144
Johhny Sullivan	IA	Clinton	Sullivan was the best overall QB at the Camp. Coach Tony Ballard spoke very highly of him. He showed very good leadership and ability to work and lead drills through the weekend. Sullivan has a very compact,easy throwing motion. He was able to spin the ball in very windy weather conditions. Sullivan had a nice over the top release and was very accurate and threw the ball on time all weekend.	QB	2017	6-0	170
Cameron Kirkpatrick	IL	Mt. Zion	Kirkpatrick has a big frame at 6-2 215. At QB, he has good natural arm strength but needs to continue to work on his craft as a passer. He was able to push the ball deep in very windy conditions. As all young QBs, he needs to clean up his delivery and work on becoming more consistent with his throwing motion. He has a very bright future.	QB	2020	6-2	215
Malcolm Mahler	WI	Sheboygan North	Youth MVP Gatorade Award winner. Mahler has the best arm of all of the QBs in the Youth Group. He is a very talented natural passer that spins the ball well and is able to consistently get good zip on the ball. He is a good athlete at 6-0 200 lbs who can throw the ball well outside of the pocket.	QB	2020	6-0	200
D'Lo Mentone	IL	Lakes	Mentone is a WR prospect who I have been able to see twice in the last few weeks. He really shined at the FBU Chicago camp. He has a good frame for a freshman at 6'1 175lbs. Mentone does a very nice job getting off the press and using his strength to clear the jam of the DB. He has very nice hands and an ability to high point the football. Mentone needs to continue working his craft, but has a chance to be a very good player.	WR	2019	6-1	175

CJ Rutherford	IL	Lindblom	Rutherford continues to impress every time I see him. He is an FBU Alumni and a '16 US Army Combine participant. He was the best WR at the '16 FBU Chicago camp and earned his 2nd Army Combine invite. He has added weight and strength since his last year. Rutherford shows nice polish as a young WR in his route running and ability to leap and control his body in the air. He had some really nice catches in the end zone and against the sideline and showed an advanced skill set with the ball in the air.	WR	2018	6-0	155
Delonte Harrell	IL	Marist	This is the 2nd time I have see Harrell in person; once in a game during the '15 season and again at the FBU Chicago. Harrell plays in the slot and could also play RB. He is at his best with the ball in his hands in 1v1 situation. He has an ability to make defenders miss and to get open using his quickness and change of direction. He is a nice build that would be able to break tackles as well.	WR	2018	5-10	175
Hasahn Austin	IL	Lyons Township	Austin is a WR prospect who can play inside or outside. We have evaluated him twice this month and continues to shine. He was one of the top WRs at FBU Chicago. He has long arms with an ability to make the difficult catch. Austin sacrificed his body diving over the middle to try and make a play. He catches the ball well with his hands and shows a nice polish for a young player.	WR	2017	5-11	160
Zaavon Scott	MI	West Catholic	Scott is a very productive HS player. As a WR, he has a good build and showed the ability to get off the jam at the line of scrimmage. He caught the ball well with his hands and used his length to make the difficult catches. Scott did a nice job finding the voids in the zone of the defense and work to get himself open. He showed advanced route running for only being a sophomore.	WR	2018	5-11	160
Jalon Benson	IL	Rockford Harlem	Middle school WR Benson really stood out amongst his age group. He was one of the best youth WRs at the camp. He had good size for a player still in middle school with a great leaping ability. He was able to high point the football and make plays on 50/50 balls. Benson made big catch after big catch in the 7v7 portion of the camp.	WR	2020	5-11	145
Kevin Block	IL	Plainfield North	High School Leadership Award Winner. Block is an athletic DB prospect who is at his best at the safety position. He did a great job getting others lined up, making the defensive calls and being a leader for his position group and the defense as a whole. Block has good size and is able to play in the middle of the field as well as come down against the run on Friday nights. He was competitive with the ball in the air and can get in and out of his back pedal.	DB	2017	6-0	175

Howard Willis III	IL	Lyons Township	Willis played all over the field at FBU Chicago. He could play CB, move to the nickel or safety. He did a great job switching off WRs and communicating well with the other DBs. Willis had a good understanding of the different defensive schemes that were taught by the defensive coaches. He moved well in his back pedal and was able to easily transition and break on the football.	DB	2017	5-8	160
Vincent Shaw	IL	Lake Park	Shaw played CB at the FBU in Chicago but could also grow into a safety. His DB coach praised him for his length and ability to play all over the defense. He was smooth in his back pedal and did a good job with the football in the air. Shaw played with a good group of DBs at FBU Chicago who dominated the last day's 7v7 session. He didn't get a ton of live passes thrown his way, but proved to be one of the best DBs at the camp.	DB	2017	5-11	170
Donte Bronson	IL	St. Laurence	Bronson is a long, lean DB that uses his length to jam and be physical with WRs. He took coaching really well and did a good job communicating with his other DBs. He showed good long speed after his back pedal turn with an ability to stay in the hip pocket of the WRs. Bronson is only a sophomore and has potential to grow into a big CB.	DB	2018	5-10	180
Isaiah Morrison	IL	St. Laurence	Morrison was one of the best true cover corners at the FBU Chicago camp. He lacks great size but makes up for it with his quickness in his back pedal and change of direction while in man to man coverage. He is very competitive with the ball in the air and plays with a ton of confidence. He didn't get a ton of balls thrown his way during the live 7v7 sessions but did a great job on 1v1s.	DB	2018	5-8	160
